

Spare IVF embryos, under 14 days old may be used for embryonic stem cell research

We should NOT carry out any stem cell research

We should allow umbilical cord stem cell research

Therapeutic cloning should be allowed

We should allow embryos to be created for research

Research on embryos to improve fertility treatment should be allowed

Human cloning should NOT be allowed

Parents undergoing IVF may select an embryo that could save a brother or sister

Research on embryonic stem cells from mice should NOT be allowed